

Dear Little Siss Friends,

On May 25, 2013 I conducted the annual conservation easement monitoring visit to the island. Needless to say, all is well on the Frank Stout Wilderness Preserve. Visiting the island is one of my favorite monitoring trips each year, and I am grateful for the boat rides I've hitched over from various cabin owners over the years. This year Ron Marquis accompanied me to the island where the first of this years spring wildflowers were just beginning to poke up (Dutchman's breeches, trillium, bishop's cap, etc.).

I also attended the Little Sissabagama Shoreowners Association. meeting where I got a chance to meet and talk with many of you. Attending the meeting helps us understand the issues and challenges on the lake and the ways the association addresses them. West Wisconsin Land Trust is committed to your lake and the protection of your island. Please feel free to give us a call with any questions or concerns.

From our end, we have recently refreshed our logo and website. Visit us at www.wwlt.org and see our new look and learn more about what we do and where we work. As you may know most of our support comes from individuals like you. While on the site you may want to peruse the "Support Our Mission" area - new members are always welcome!

Sincerely,
Rick Remington, Conservation Director
